Program emphasizes Los Gatos Creek area

Sparked by official action of the City of Campbell and with the anticipation and hope that all civic organizations, clubs and residents will take an active part, an ambitious month-long clean-up campaign is scheduled for April.

Special emphasis of the project will be a vigorous attempt to alleviate the Los Gatos Creek eye-sore, long a black mark against the appearance of the city.

Tabbed the "CAMPBELL CLEAN-UP CRUSADE," the City Council officially designated the council's beautification committee, headed by Councilman Ed Rogers, to coordinate the program through the office of City Manager Bob Stephens, who is also secretary of the committee. James Duffield C. of C. manager, will also assist in coordinating the project.

Councilman Bill Smeed and Mayor Charles Rose are the other members of the committee.

The city fathers gave their wholehearted approval of the project, which is part of a nationwide clean-up campaign. It was outlined in a general way by Stephens. The mayor also officially proclaimed the month of April as "Campbell Clean-up Month."

Stephens explained that one of the purposes of the "3-C" project was to stimulate neighborhood paint-up, fix-up and clean-up drives which includes the annual free refuse pick-up service offered by Los Gatos Scavenger Co.

He said the scavenger firm will also cooperate in other phases of the campaign by offering its trucks for clean-up use along Los Gatos Creek. The free pick-up service for residents will take place on Tuesday, April 26, the last week of the campaign.

Fire Chief George Maxwell and Fire Marshal Gene Borden have reported that the fire department will cooperate in the program through an accelerated weed abatement schedule, control burning and through fire inspections and will suggest means of improving certain areas.

Councilman Rogers as chairman of the beautification committee, indicated that one of the objectives would be to stimulate tree planting and landscaping throughout the city. He pointed out that it was possible for the council's tree-planting program planned for a future date, could be started in April to "help get the crusade off the ground."

It was emphasized also during the discussion that especially in the Los Gatos Creek area it was imperative that the property owners along the creek cooperate in the clean-

SOLOISTS AND CONDUCTOR--Maestro Vincenzo Giannini, of the San Francisco Opera Company, at the piano, is shown with the soloists for the Lord Nelson Mass of Haydn which will be performed with the 350-voice combined choirs of the Campbell Union High School District in the annual music festival. The program will be held in the Blackford High gym Thursday at 8 p.m. From left to right, Bob Lash, Leigh High School; Mike Zampecini, Del Mar High; Bill Wallace, Camden High; Carla Crownover, Westmont High; Robert Campbell, Blackford High; Gail Woodman, Leigh High and Julie Gable, Westmont High.

High school district to present music festival

Blackford High School's Gym, 3800 Blackford Ave., San Jose, will be the setting for the 1966 Campbell Union High District music festival, tomorrow (Thursday), March 31. Students from all six high schools in the district, Campbell, Camden, Del Mar, Blackford, Leigh and Westmont, will take part.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and is free of charge.

The major work of this year's festival will be the Lord Nelson Mass of Joseph Haydn. Guest conductor for the mass will be Maestro Vicenzo Giannini of the San Francisco Opera Company.

One of the features of the program will be the 350 voice combined chorus from the six high schools in the district and the 100 piece honor orchestra. Soloists have been selected by audition.

According to Raynold Allvin, of the music staff of the district, the type of festival offered this year is uncommon in this area because of the severe demands it makes on the musical abilities of the performers. Outstanding examples of talent, he adds, will be heard in the solo voices with the orchestral accompaniment. He explains that the program is only made possible by the concentration of high quality talent in the district.

Also on the program will be the Bach Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 for string orchestra and the Prelude to Act III, Lohengrin by Wagner for full orchestra.

RAIN DROPS

Rainfall total to date measures 11.65 inches with only .26 of an inch falling during March. This time last year percipitation measured 13.55 inches

C. of C. gains 38 members

Thirty-eight new Chamber of Commerce members were added to the Campbell rolls last week as the result of an intensive one-day membership drive.

James Duffield, Chamber manager, announced that the Presidential Sweepstake winners were Larry King, Bank of America, for the most new members brought in and Ken Mantle, New York Life, for the most money brought in. Final results will be announced next week.

Many of the new members were presented at the regular monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon held March 24 at the Villa Felice which was attended by over 100 members.

College board discusses bonds tomorrow night

Consideration of matters concerned with the proposed bond election for the district is one of the main items listed on the agenda for the special meeting of the board of trustees of West Valley College tomorrow (Thursday).

The meeting called for 7:30 p.m. will be held in the conference room of the business services office of the college at 51 E. Campbell Ave.

Other items on the agenda include, consideration of the district's vocational education under the National Defense Education Act.

Los Ranchitos host candidates

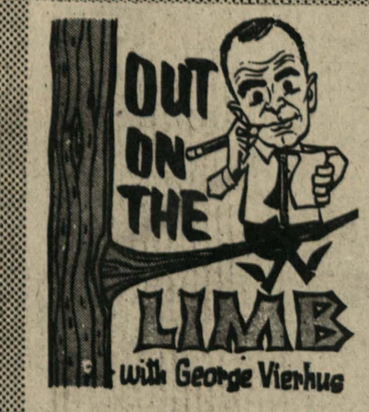
Los Ranchitos Homeowners Association invites the public to attend a "coffee hour" and "Meet your candidates night" at the Los Ranchitos Cabana Club Thursday night, March 31, at 8 p.m.

Chairman Harry Lee says the speakers will be Henry Batis, candidate for County Supervisor for the 24th District, and Homer H. Hyde and Ralph Doetsch, candidates for re-election to the Campbell City Council on April 12. John Betti will be master of ceremonies.

A question and answer period will be on the agenda. The Cabana Club is located in the cul-de-sac of Calado Avenue.

NEW BOARD MEMBER--Bill Parton (right), president of the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, welcomes Vernon I. Armstrong, of 3613 Londonderry Drive, Santa Clara, as trustee to complete the term of Howard Guilbert, who has resigned and moved to the Morgan Hill area.

Armstrong, who is an executive with Owens-Corning Fiberglas, has been a representative of the Parkway Home and School Club to the board. He and his wife, Gretchen, have four sons; Brett, 10; Gary, 7; Dirk, 6, all attending Parkway and Eric, 4, who will enter next year. He received his education at Washington State and University of Washington.



MISINTERPRETATION, deliberate or accidental, of the ideas we attempt to express in print is something we have learned to live with in the years that we have made a living as a dealer in words.

It is not uncommon for people to read something into what we have written that is far afield from the objective of the piece.

But, shucks, that even happens with the spoken word.

Take the last C. of C. luncheon meeting as a f'instance.

We respectfully asked President Dick Hardy during the introduction bit to request that the BOOS to be held to a minimum when we were introduced.

Jack Dawson, local barrister and former C. of C. president, thereupon wanted to know whether the word was spelled "BOOS" or "BOOZE".

BUT THAT IS JUST one example of how the spoken English language can be twisted and how difficult it must be for people from other countries to try to figure out just what is going on.

There are countless other examples where two words sound exactly alike but have entirely different meanings.

It is a little more difficult to twist the written words. But it can be done, we assure you.

And we ought to know.

People have been trying to do that to our masterpieces(?) for years.

Recently the Rev. Kit Carson, of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, tore into us in a letter lambasting us for using "verbal camouflage" in an editorial about an alleged racial discrimination problem affecting some West Valley College students.

He claimed we had sidestepped the primary issue by creating a minor issue so as to smoke screen a major one.

In the editorial, some of you may recall, we mentioned that three out-of-state college students reportedly could not find a place to stay in town because of their color.

WE DEPLORED the allegation that racial bigotry existed in Campbell but were hopeful that a student housing committee that had been set up would alleviate some of the problems.

We then suggested that care should be taken in inviting students from out of the district when the campus was already overcrowded with local students.

It was, in our opinion, part and parcel of the same issue, but Kit claimed we were playing "verbage games".

Along with us the City of Campbell was criticized by the Rev. Carson for not facing up to the real issue.

Frankly, we have not

Editorial

Proceed with caution

Trustees of the West Valley Junior College District are scheduled this Thursday at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. to consider the specifications to be included in the bond issue that soon will be presented to the voters in the district.

At a recent meeting, the trustees by a 5-2 vote decided that the first complete permanent campus of the college should be in Santa Clara.

This action implies that the bulk of the funds derived from the proposed bond issue, if the bond issue was approved, would be earmarked for the development of the Santa Clara site, north of Bayshore.

Before any bond issue is presented to the voters in the district and before The Press can give its support to such an issue there are a number of specifics relating to this end of the district that need to be taken into consideration.

According to available information, 70 percent of the students in the junior college district come from the Campbell-Los Gatos-Saratoga end of the district.

Thus, before a complete and permanent campus is built in Santa Clara, we are concerned over the provisions that will be made to accommodate the students from this area.

We maintain that steps should be taken to improve the present temporary Campbell site, the old Campbell Grammar School, so that it can be used permanently as part of the junior college plant.

We suggest that possibly the present Campbell High School campus could in some future date become a part of the junior college. Even as far out as the idea now appears to be, we sincerely believe that this idea should be explored.

Who knows what changes will be in the educational picture in this area in the future? There have been plenty in the last 10 years.

And this brings up another frustrating point.

Just how long is "temporary"?

The junior college has occupied the old grammar school for two years now, and, even at the most optimistic thinking, the college will use the buildings "temporarily" for another five or possibly 10 years.

It is inconceivable to us that the junior college would use those quarters for 10 years without improving or expanding the site.

The buildings, we know, needed improvement when the college moved in. What will happen to them in the next 10 years?

Then suppose the board decrees that the students from this area must attend the "temporary" college, even after the new Santa Clara campus is built? Will that be fair to the people and students from this section of the district?

We recognize that one of the prime reasons for stipulating the Santa Clara campus will be the first one built was to throttle the militant opposition of the small segment of Saratoga people who from the start have placed road blocks in the way of the college expansion.

But we wonder whether this is being fair to the entire district. Is it fair to cater to the whims of a selfish group of citizens from one small area to the detriment of the entire district?

The logical site for the first campus, in our opinion, was Campbell. Unfortunately an available site could not be found in this community so the Saratoga site was picked and 112 acres of the 140 acres have already been acquired.

What is the thinking now, we wonder, as far as the board is concerned about the Saratoga site?

We are convinced that any bond-issue-package that is presented to the voters of the junior college district, comprised of the Santa Clara-Campbell-Los Gatos-Saratoga districts, should be a three-pronged affair.

1. A Santa Clara site should be developed but only to adequately take care of the needs of the students of that area.

2. The present Campbell site should be developed, improved and expanded on a permanent basis.

3. The Saratoga site should be developed similarly to the Santa Clara site.

We admit that our viewpoint is basically a selfish one, for we are definitely concerned over the needs and welfare of the citizens and students in our immediate area.

We also feel that the West Valley College is an asset to this community, culturally, educationally, and commercially.

Each year it will mean that much more.

In a 10-year "temporary" period, the roots of the college will have sunk deeply into the life of this community.

Yanking out these roots will be a major undertaking with far-reaching significance.

We submit that the board of trustees must proceed with caution.

Putting all their eggs (dollars) in one basket (Santa Clara) at this time does not seem to us the proper approach to a perplexing and confused state of affairs.

been aware that there is a racial problem in Campbell, or, rather, what we consider a problem.

Maybe we are naive or maybe we just don't get around.

Mrs. Velma Mayne this week in the letter column has answered quite effectively, in our opinion, some of the points raised by Kit Carson.

PEOPLE on crutches are not unusual sights.

Especially is this true during the skiing season.

Thus when we saw Dick Andis, personnel manager at the Campbell IBM card plant, hobbling around, we assumed he had been involved in a skiing accident.

Not so.

It was in a volleyball game, we learned, that Dick was injured.

You may recall also that Police Chief John Morgan was on crutches for a spell recently.

John got banged up in a basketball game.

Maybe that's why we stick to golf.

-0-

TO PUBLICIZE the bike auction conducted by the police department last Saturday for last week's issue we posed Sgt. Frank Furtaw and officers Dick Wixson and Don Dore' on bikes in front of the 20 or so that were up for sale.

We are calling Mrs. Cynthia White, C. of C. office secretary, "old eagle-eye" now.

As far as we know, she is the only person who noticed that the bike that Sgt. Furtaw was sitting on had a flat tire.

We are certain that Frank didn't notice it.

We didn't, and we took the picture.

OUR EDITORIAL last week on the decision of the West Valley College trustees to build the first permanent campus in Santa Clara and the proposed bond issue apparently has raised a few eyebrows and some hackles.

We suggested that we needed some specifics with respect to the thinking of what was going to happen to the temporary quarters, the old Campbell Grammar School, before we could endorse any proposed bond issue.

We added that we felt that the bond issue package should include funds for building the Saratoga site, the development of Santa Clara and improvement and expansion of the "temporary" (10-year) Campbell plant.

We even suggested exploring the possibility of combining the present Campbell High site with the grammar school one for a usable permanent junior college plant.

Ok. Ok.

So it was far out, for now anyway.

But just how accurate is your crystal ball?

Council dilemma

How many votes should it take?

In an attempt to clarify the present ordinance as to whether it should take a four-fifths vote of the City Council or a bare majority to overrule Planning Commission actions, council members got entangled in a confused voting melee' of their own Monday night.

It actually took three motions to untangle them.

The first one made by Councilman Ralph Doetsch and seconded by Councilman Bill Smeed would have forced a four-fifths vote of the council on all commission overrides. The present ordinance specifies that on variances and use permits only a majority is needed to overrule. This motion lost 3-2 with Mayor Charles Rose and Councilman Ed Rogers and Homer Hyde voting it down.

It was then pointed out by City Attorney Joe Bonacina that the action would change the present ordinance eliminating all four-fifths votes.

Council members then were not sure this was what they wanted. Two members from the audience also got into the act, one favoring the majority vote idea and the other the four-fifths method.

Bill Ellis told the council that the four-fifths was the proper way to override while Lowell Grattan maintained that the council was elected whereas the commission was appointed, therefore the council should only need a majority.

Then the second motion was made, to rescind the first motion. This was passed by a 4-1 vote, Mayor Rose dissenting.

Finally the motion to defer action was passed unanimously.

The question of the vote on overruling of the Planning Commission was part of a text amendment that would govern the prezoning of property prior to annexation. Council members, recognizing the need to get the prezoning measure on the books, indicated that they felt they could resolve the matter of commission overruling at the next meeting.

In other actions, the council:

--DENIED the zone change from R-1-S to C-2-3 for property on Ridgeley Drive just off Bascom as recommended by the Planning Commission. Council members felt that the zone change should await plans for any proposed development on the parcel because there is no buffer zone between commercial and residential in the area.

--ADOPTED an annexation ordinance and a zoning ordinance and gave first reading to two other ordinances, one that would more strictly control home occupations and the other that would approve the planned development of Sutter Hill Development Co. on Hamilton Ave.

--APPROVED a traffic signal maintenance contract with a private firm instead of the state.

--DIRECTED a letter be written to Ad-Art sign company suggesting that, if the firm desired a change in the proposed sign for American Auto, other than the one approved, proper application should be made. Approval has been given two 8-foot x 66-foot signs. The sign company in a letter indicated a smaller sign could go up, if council agreed.

--DIRECTED staff to work with Community Cable Services, a firm that desires a franchise to put in a television cable in the city.

--TOOK NO ACTION on the report of Bill Ellis, this city's representative on Area 6 of the Economic Opportunity Commission which described the confused state of affairs existing and the fight for power going on by various pressure groups at all levels.

up plans. Some of the industrial firms had already been contacted and have agreed to participate, it was reported.

One of the features of the month-long program could be a gigantic work-day on a Saturday in which city employees, members of service clubs, and other residents would volunteer to clean-up the creek area, the city manager suggested.

The City Council in endorsing the program also emphasized that the city-owned corporation yard should be the first area to be dressed up. The council directed Bill Wren, public works director, to take immediate action in this.

Details of the project are being worked out, Stephens explained and he urged civic organiaztions and residents who are interested in assisting to contact the city hall. He said the program will also be explained to the service clubs the next week and he expected to get their full cooperation.

"This could be one of the greatest and most successful community wide projects ever undertaken in Campbell," the city manager explained, "provided we get the cooperation of all those concerned. All of us realize that the Los Gatos Creek area is an eyesore, the "3-C" program will give us a chance to do something about it."

Lost the address of a friend who lives out of town? Here's a helpful tip: Most telephone business offices stock a "library" of books from other parts of the United States. Come in any time during our office hours and look things up. Who knows? You may renew a lot of old acquaintances!

On long distance calls outside your own numbering plan area it takes an Area Code to speed your call to the right part of the country. Area Codes for many places are listed in the front pages of your Campbell phone book. Add Area Codesto your personal out-of-town number list and you'll always have the complete "telephone address" handy.

We've all gotten a kick out of this story that made the rounds of the telephone office: A man being interviewed for a job was asked by the prospective employer if he'd ever done any public speaking. "I sure have," replied the applicant. "I once proposed to a girl over a rural party-line telephone!" Those were the good old days?

Crime doesn't pay. Certainly not if the criminal—one we read about—calls his wife long distance from the house he's robbing to say he's "working late!" When the homeowner received the charge on his phone bill, he informed police no one was home the date of the call. It was handier than fingerprints to check the number called for the thief's name and address!

Rick plans to attend Stanford University and major in Space Medicine. He is a member of Key Club, A. F. S. and Block B. He currently has a 4.0 grade point average.

A Traditions and Privileges Committee has been formed by the Student Council. Ellen Roemmele heads the committee. The other members are Linda De La Rosa, Jill Nygren, Vivian Guercio, Jan Hammond, Denise Hancock, Sherry Keresey, Tim Briggs, Dale Leslie, Lorretta Manfree and Susan Wallace.

Smorgas International was the site for the Key Club banquet on March 16. The purpose of the banquet was the presentation of the club's charter and banner from the Kiwanis Club.

Principal George Miskulin's Academic Honor Roll for the Fall Semester was made up of 245 students--57 seniors, 61 juniors, 75 sophomores and 62 freshmen.

Two seniors were honored as students of the month for February. They are Tom Cain and Nancy Bonanno. Tom was Senior Class president for the first semester and now is a member of the Senior Cabinet. He holds the office of vice-president for the Senior Boy's Service Club and is sports editor for our Laurel yearbook. He was a member of the Varsity Wrestling team until receiving an injury.

Nancy was Student Manager on Student Council for the second semester. She is Senior Editor for the yearbook and was chairman for the After-Ball Party. She is a member of Honor Society and the California Scholarship Federation.

Four seniors from Del Mar were selected to represent Del Mar in this year's Bank of America Achievement Awards program. The trophy winners and the study fields in which they were chosen are: Robert Hausman, science and mathematics; Melody Maiden, fine arts; Terry Kalvalege, liberal arts; Nancy Bonnano, vocational arts.

Terry Kavalege and Robert Hausman, both seniors at Del Mar, have now advanced to the finalist standing in the 1965-66 National Merit Program.

Del Mar now needs $200 more towards the electric scoreboard. Our scoreboard was torn down and the Student Body voted on having an electric scoreboard.

Del Mar had 110 students attending Camp Weekend, which was more than twice as many students as were there from any other single Young Life Club.

Del Mar's first ski club held its frist ski trip on March 11-13 at Dodge Ridge. Forty students and five advisors attended, including club advisor, Coach Carr.

Del Mar's varsity Track team lost its first track meet to Blackford. Varsity firsts were taken by Dale Philips, Ed Collins, Steve Bragg, Jim Roberts and Bill Dyer.

Del Mar's varsity, "B" and "C" swimming teams scored impressive wins over Los Gatos last Friday in the Del Mar pool. This was the first dual league meet of the season.

Cub Scouts

The March pack meeting for Cub Scout Pack 317, sponsored by Coventry Home and School Club, was held recently at Bucknall School. The opening flag ceremony was presented by Den 1, and the attendance award was won by Den 2.

Roger Leischner, activities chairman, announced that the last paper drive was won by Den 4, and the next one will be held April 29.

A play, "Lancelot and the Dragon", was presented by Den 2 in keeping with the monthly theme of Knights of the Round Table.

Awards were earned by the following boys: David Whittiker, Tim Hurley, Lee Puthuff, Larry Vaughn, Timmy Lohr, John Wilcox, Ronald Leischner, Curt Russell and Paul Hoff.

BUC BANTER

BY MARY KNOWLES ALLEN

Last Tuesday the student body of Campbell High was held spellbound for 35 minutes by the Princess Catherine Caradja. After escaping from Communist held Rumania she has devoted the last ten years to showing the picture of Communist domination to the American public.

A career guidance institute was held at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds last Wednesday. Campbell Sophomores attended this institute for the purpose of acquainting themselves with potential occupations.

Each Sophomore took aptitude tests and completed a self-rating scale which enabled him to rate himself in 8 different occupational areas. It also rated him as to his level of skill in each particular field.

Students each chose their two best fields and attended a presentation on each one. The presentations consisted of panel discussions by people in the various fields.

After hectic weeks of work on "Camelot," Larry McCommas has struggled to get his A Cappella Choir in good voice for tomorrows District Choir Festival. Part of the Lord Nelson Mass by Haydn lies unfinished for a performance but Mr. McCommas expects the choir to pull through under the strain as they have in the past.

Coming events for the Choir include another Festival at Santa Clara High School, the Spring Concert, Baccalaureate and Graduation.

Only 9 short weeks left until the end of school and graduation.

Children's show at WV College

There will be two performances, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. For further information contact Mrs. Alan Campbell, 244-5698 or Mrs. Gerald Bergstrom, 356-6954.

Art exhibits

Mary Baggett, a former resident of Campbell, will be "Artist of the Month" during April at the Vault Gallery, 68 W. Main St., Los Gatos. The show will consist of realistic oils and encaustics. Open house to meet the artist will be held Sunday, April 3 from 2 until 10 p.m.

Another local resident, Mike Lindstrom, will display his art work of still life, landscape and portrait subjects through the month of April at the Cameo Art Gallery.

Myers announces that Brian H. Fottrell, general commercial manager of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., has been selected to lead the entire county United Fund at the annual meeting of the County UF Board of Trustees.

Fottrell served as executive vice president of the board in 1965. In 1963, he was campaign chairman of the Central Area UF Chapter, which includes Campbell and 10 other nearby cities. Fottrell was president of that chapter during 1964.

According to Myers, O. H. Thornall, manager PG & E in Mountain View, was elected executive vice president, with Ray L. Wilbur, Jr., vice president Newlett-Packard Co., being elected vice president for public relations.

Roger M. Brennan, executive secretary of Building & Construction Trades Council, was re-elected to his second year as vice president for allocations.

Grass Roots

BRIGHT COLOR BY THE BOXFUL

The big advantage of growing seasonal flowers in containers is that you can place color wherever you need it the most. You can bring masses of petunias right up onto the paved areas of your patio or entry.

You can give a bare, wooden deck warmth and charm by furnishing it with geraniums, dwarf marigolds and other container adapted plants. You can give a quick lift to a shady corner by moving in pots of lobelia or a planter brimming with tuberous begonias in bloom.

According to the California Association of Nurserymen, some flowers actually thrive better, become more compact and produce more blooms when their roots are restricted.

Geraniums are one of these, and whether you choose the showy "common" geranium, the azalea-like pelargonium, or the glossy-leafed ivy type, you can count on their "decorator" colors to brighten bare spots until frost.

The daisy-like marguerite is another perennial that thrives well in a container. When you visit your nursery, you'll see these easy-to-grow plants in white, lemon yellow, and light and dark pink shades.

Give marguerites full sun (except in very hot climates), and loose, not too fertile soil. The blue-flowered felicia (blue marguerite) combines well with yellow marguerites and makes an attractive plant for either tubs or hanging baskets.

Low-growing cushion chrysanthemums are ideal pot subjects, and you'll find healthy young plants in flats at your nursery now. A large planter brimming with their prolific pink, yellow, red or white blooms will add sparkle to any sunny area for months.

Always give chrysanthemums rich soil and plenty of good and water throughout their growing season.

One of the best annuals for container growing is the perky, colorful petunia. White or pink Cascade petunias will tumble fountains of color from hanging baskets or spill over the sides of tubs, and keep blooming for months on end. Many of the double petunias, such as the variegated Cherry Tart, are exceptionally attractive pot subjects.

The scarlet Comanche is another popular petunia for planters. To get a generous mass effect with petunias, plant them more closely in containers than you would in the ground. About four inches apart is fine.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. My husband and I have been separated for several years, but never divorced. Can I get benefits as his wife?

A. Yes, provided he gets social security benefits and you are 62 or over. You don't have to live with your husband or receive contributions to get payments as a legal wife.

Q. Will child's benefits now being paid to my son continue until he graduates from college?

A. If he remains otherwise eligible, his benefits would end when he graduates or is 22, whichever is first.

Q. I was 60 years old in January 1965. Under the changes in the Social Security Law, will I be able to get widow's payments from that time?

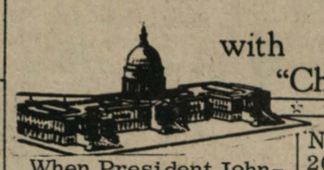
A. No. Payments to widows under 62 did not begin until September 1965.

Q. My insurance agent tells me that I shouldn't drop my health insurance policy because of the new Medicare Law. Is he right?

A. Yes. No one should drop his health insurance policy because of the new law. Coverage under Medicare does not become effective until July 1, 1966.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



When President Johnson and Secretary McNamara released 200,000 tons of copper from the national stockpile last November, the announced purpose was to stabilize the price and relieve the shortage of copper in defense industry.

The manner in which the release was handled has apparently defeated its purpose. And there is good reason to believe that some of the copper found its way to Communist China and Russia, and that it caused windfall profits to speculators of up to $120 million!

The national stockpile of strategic materials contains 98 items valued at almost $8 billion. Its management is necessarily complicated and mistakes like the copper release of last November can be made unintentionally. But they shouldn't happen twice.

In November 1965 the price of copper was rising rapidly and domestic users faced shortages caused by unrestricted exports to Japan and Europe. Much of this exported copper found its way to Red China and Russia when it was purchased by foreign companies acting as fronts.

So when the Administration released 200,000 tons in November at 36¢ per lb., copper exports were curtailed to all countries except Canada. This caused the world price to rise to 42¢ per lb. and increased U.S. exports to Canada. At this time U.S. copper is being re-exported from Canada and eventually reaches Red China and Russia at a much higher price than it was sold for.

Three months after the November release, the world price of copper has risen so those who bought it at 36¢ are in a position to almost double their money.

No provision was made for channeling the desperately needed copper directly to defense industry. 7,175 tons went to ingot makers whose sole function is to smelt and refine brass, bronze and copper scrap material and who almost never buy refined copper. But, at the price of 36¢ it became profitable for these companies to buy and resell.

Two companies, R. Lavin and Sons in Chicago, and H. Kramer Inc., of Chicago, made several million when they received 60% of the total released to ingot makers though together they represent less than 20% of the industry. This refined copper was resold as ingot when it could have gone directly to the makers of copper products.

Companies like Commercial Metals Co., in Dallas, Texas, Joseph Beher Company, Rockford, Ill., I. A. Berkson Company, Chicago, Ill., and large trading companies like Barth Inc., of New Jersey, and M. Kettelman Inc., of Maryland, none of which produce finished copper products, got allotments which presumably they resold at tremendous profit.

Other companies sold their inventories and replaced them with low priced government copper for a profit conservatively figured to be 30 to 35¢ per lb. The entire windfall is estimated to be $120 million!

Now President Johnson has announced his intention of releasing more stockpile copper. Steps should be taken to guarantee that it is only sold to domestic producers of finished copper products and not to speculators who resell to Canada, which in turn exports to Communist countries.

Sandra Kaye Garner Ronald Buchholz wed

A candlelight service at The Assembly of God Church in Campbell was the setting for the wedding of Sandra Kaye Garner and Ronald David Buchholz recently. Rev. Herbert Johnson officiated at the nuptials before a large gathering of friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Garner of Saratoga. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Buchholz, Sr., of San Jose are the parents of the bridegroom.

For the wedding ceremony, the brunette bride selected a regal satin gown of delustered satin combined with Chantilly lace, styled in empire and princess lines. The gown featured long sleeves and a chapel train of scalloped lace.

MRS. BUCHHOLZ

The maid of honor, Miss Kathy Hinks, and the two bridesmaids, Misses Glenda Marie Leonard and Betty Mae Buchholz, made a striking picture in their red and white ballerina length gowns. Each attendant carried a nosegay of red roses and white carnations.

Serving as best man was Robert Nelson, Jr., and attendants were Jeff Nelson and Ronald Lee Garner. Jean Behl and Lou Devogel escorted guests to their seats. Candlelighters were Brenda Sue Garner and Barbara Kay Buchholz. Miss Kelly Boese was the little flower girl and Ronald Ballew was the ring bearer.

The young couple greeted their friends at a reception held in the church hall. Following a honeymoon to Southern California, they will make their first home in Campbell.

The bride is an alumna of Campbell High School and is now employed in a local convalescent hospital. Her husband is a graduate of Camden High School and is associated with I.B.M. Corp.

TENT SHOWS

It was estimated that there were 20,000 professional performers headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., during the 1920's at the height of tent repertoire theaters' activities.

Cancer Volunteers needed

Two Campbell women have been appointed co-chairmen of the annual residential drive for funds for the American Cancer Society. They are Mrs. S. P. Arnold, 1830 McBain Ave., chairman, and Mrs. Sverre Knapstad, 1870 McBain Ave., vice chairman.

Volunteers to collect funds for the Cancer Drive are needed in this community, and women wishing to help are asked to call either Mrs. Arnold at 377-6854 or Mrs. Knapstad at 377-3627.

Funds collected will be used to continue research for a cure for cancer, and for the many service programs, including transportation, hospital beds for home patients, visiting nurses and homemaking services. The Cancer Drive is slated for April 16, 17 and 18. Robert Hersch, M.D., local physician, is Campbell chairman.

Blue ribbons for Jr. Gardeners

The Santa Clara Valley District Junior Gardeners first Standard Flower Show was held March 19 at the Kelley Park Community Center. There were 143 entries from six Junior Garden Clubs in the horticulture and artistic divisions.

The Camp Belles Junior Garden Club had 27 entries. Blue ribbons for first prize in the artistic division went to Teresa Struss, and to Mary Kahler, Jeannette Heiner, Leslie Anderson and Annette Gonzales in the horticulture division.

The Campbell group also received six second place awards and seven third place awards. The balance all received honorable mention.

Mrs. Joseph Aversente is counselor and instructor to this group, and to the Baby Roses Junior Garden Club. The Junior Gardeners recently observed Arbor Day with a ceremony at St. Lucy's School.

Looking for something to do?

A number of Campbell women are finding satisfaction in "doing for others" by their work with the Volunteer Bureau of Santa Clara County, a United Fund Agency.

This organization, now in its 16th year, provides volunteers for services to Agnews State Hospital, The American Cancer Society, the Santa Clara County Welfare Department, and many more such agencies.

Women with a little extra time to give, visit the sick and lonely, make Christmas gifts, sew layettes and clothing for the needy, provide interpreter service and provide needed recreational therapy for the mental patient.

Mrs. Kenneth Gardner of Campbell has served on the Board of Directors of the Volunteer Bureau for over six years. Another Campbell resident, Dr. Richard Sheehan, has recently been appointed to the Board.

There is a group of housewives in our community who call themselves "Les Amies", who devote much time to projects for the Volunteer Bureau. They are now making corsages of artificial flowers for Mother's Day.

They have folded newspaper bags for the Visiting Nurses Association, and collected hobby items for Agnews State Hospital. They have cleaned up and dressed dolls for Christmas, and are already working on dolls for next year.

This group meets monthly at members' homes. Working in this group are Mmes. Stanis Rohde, Alton Dorsett, George Reynolds, Walter Land, Ray Gilpatrick, Chester Garner, Arthur Robinson, Wayne Smith, DuBois Rhine and Jess Peters.

El Paradiso Council, Parent Teachers Association, staged a canned food drive for Christmas baskets for the needy last year, under the direction of the Volunteer Bureau.

A new feature of the Volunteer Bureau is the Volunteen Group. A Volunteen spends his summer holiday as an unpaid helper, working in one of the recreation, health or government agencies. As a result, many teenagers have found new horizons with a chance to learn more about a possible career.

If there are other residents of this community who wish to contribute to the welfare of others by giving their time, they are invited to contact the Volunteer Bureau, 327 Gifford Ave., San Jose. The telephone number is 297-1928. You will get a wonderful reception!

Church supper Thursday eve

Campbell Congregational Church members will hold the last in a series of three Lenten pot-luck suppers Thursday, March 31 at 6:30 p.m. in Merriman Hall.

Speaker for the evening will be the Rev. J. Wesley Pierson, minister of the Congregational Community Church in Sunnyvale.

Dinner arrangements are under the direction of members of the Sigma Circle.

Palm Sunday services are scheduled for Sunday, April 3 at 10 a.m. at which time the sacrament of baptism will be held.

Choirs combine for Palm Sunday evening service

The Youth and Sanctuary Choirs of the First Methodist Churches of Campbell and San Jose will combine to bring Gabriel Faure's "Requiem" Palm Sunday evening, April 3, at 8 p.m. at the local church. The members of the choirs have spent many hours in preparation to make the message of Easter more meaningful.

Vocal solos will be sung by Dorothy Preshaw, soprano; Robert Campbell, baritone, and Jan Williamson, soprano. The choirs will be directed by Frederick Loadwick, professor of voice at San Jose State College and Director of Music at the First Methodist Church of San Jose.

Palm Sunday services will be held at 9 and 10:30 a.m. Rev. William Gould will bring the message "More Than a Picturesque Event" and 22 members of the confirmation class will be received as members of the Church on Palm Sunday.

Council candidate presents platform

John Billmeyer, of 151 Marianna Way, employed by the Merchants Association of San Jose, is one of four candidates for the two seats open on the Campbell City Council in the city election on April 12. This week he presents his "platform."

Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde are seeking re-election. The other council candidate is Ted Bauer, 26, of 1008 Connie Drive, employed by San Francisco International Airport as an airport deputy.

Billmeyer's statement follows:

We have a family of five and most of us, except the little ones, have lived in Campbell for the past eight years. We've all been active in home and school clubs, scouts, church, and enjoy giving time for the betterment of our community. I, myself, have served as volunteer fireman, held offices in school clubs, served as financial chairman on Sanitation District No. 4 bond issue, and at present am a commissioner for the parks and recreation.

I have been present at most council meetings since I ran fourth out of ten candidates for the office of councilman in 1964. I rest my platform on four words that have played a major part in the inability of Campbell to capture the needs of its citizens:

FORESIGHT----
STRENGTH-CONTROL
----DIRECTION

We need major items in every department of our city, from public works to parks and recreation, from land to corporation yard storage, and no one in the past six years within our city structure has had the foresight to actively promote, and finally to acquire large business firms and industrial parks for that revenue to satisfy the appetite in creating Campbell, a city deserving of good streets, parks, beautification, and a strong central core.

The extras, and those areas that are not adequate now, will be before you in either bond issue or increases in taxation in the next few years. We've ridden the rocket of population, and it has paid dividends, but they are returned for the needs of those newly arrived. Our foresight has been lacking in obtaining this type of revenue for extras other cities are offering.

We talk about the sphere of influence of our surrounding cities and county in such areas as public works and planning, and yet they strangle us with new shopping centers on our boundaries, luring our citizens to buy elsewhere.

--candidate

We do not protest this, even though the city looses revenue, nor do we protest the action of San Jose on our boundaries, which now look like the Marine coastline; nor the lack of respect by the county in leaving Campbell and Budd avenues in their present condition for the past nine months. We deserve more strength in negotiating with these municipalities.

The city council is weighted by the sub-committees within its structure, so that the information on different views of different citizens never reaches them. It's a matter of controlling politics in the City of Campbell, and it casts a definite shadow on our city.

Let's open the doors, bring new blood in, so that problems within the city such as school safety, county and neighboring city activity, city esthetic measures, and a host of others can be explored, and will enlighten the council and build a better Campbell. Let the council set the policy and let the people inform the council.

The downtown area has been an issue for the past four years and without direction it has become what it is today. The average citizen fails to shop on Campbell Avenue because it doesn't appeal to them. Where is there beauty or parking, or the incentive to lure the shopper.

Mountain View five years ago was in this crippling situation. Today they bring in their share of the retail sales, for they have ample parking, beautification and offer enticement to the shopper. Our direction in parks is also far behind.

The city feels that the Los Gatos creek project is the maximum for our city and this project is financed by the county, so the city's responsibility is being directed away from this field. Under federal grants of today, land can be purchased with an outright grant of 50% of the cost; and we have, for a population of 22,000 people, a total of three acres of developed parks.

Compare this to any surrounding city. The San Tomas Expressway has been planned without consideration to the separation of the city. It is too late to bridge the severed streets, but it is not too late to include walkways, to eliminate the dangers small children will experience.

Let's have progress; let's move ahead, but not in the fashion of the past.

Letters to the Editor

RACE PROBLEM?
Dear George:

Although I am not a subscriber to The Campbell Press, I do take advantage of the stands placed around town, and therefore feel qualified to write "a letter to the editor".

My family and I have resided in this area since the summer of 1953. We like it very much and would like to stay. In catching up on my reading of The Press, I find much to my dismay that Campbell has "a racial problem".

I use the word "dismay" because as I take "inventory" of my neighbors of the house in which I have resided for the past ten years, I find that my "Heinz-57" variety ancestory leaves me out in the cold.

In an area of eight blocks each direction, there resides the following: German, Japanese, Chinese, Czechoslovakian, Norwegian, Swiss, Mexican-American, Polish, Negro, Russian, Jewish, and a new Negro family just bought a few blocks down the street a few months ago.

These are mostly all people who I know personally. Goodness knows what other nationalities are represented in our whole community. A large part of these people all lived here before I came.

I realize fully that since the beginning of time there has been prejudice of one kind or another, whether it be religious, racial, political, etc., but -- I wonder if a good many prospective renters who are turned away, have been so, not because of the color of their skin, but because of their unsuitability as tenants.

With my son's prospective entrance into the United States Marine Corps soon, I would hope that any new neighbors I might have would have darker skins than my own rather than be "members in good standing" of any of the many groups listed in the "House of Un-American Activities" books, using so harshly the freedoms my son will be fighting to protect.

During the past few years we have seen Campbell grow in all directions. I would like to think Vicar Carson, a comparitive newcomer to our community, would bide his time until he becomes better acquainted with our citizens, and our government.

It seems strange that he would be so voluble in his cry of "racial prejudice" when he has been vicar here only two short years and is not even a resident of the city.

We all have many thoughts and ideas on these subjects, but it does seem awfully strange that my sons have for all these years gone to school, taken music lessons, swam, played ball, etc., with all these races and nationalities and I have never heard one word about racial problems.

I hope that any newcomers to the community that are worthy in their living habits, and have as much to offer as the present residents, regardless of color, are not subjected to any kind of prejudice, but I also hope that this rabble-rousing will not cause all of us to look for trouble where there has been none.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Richard A. (Velma) Mayne

DISCRIMINATION
Dear Sir:

We feel that it should be brought to the attention of the local newspaper editor that the students of West Valley College are being discriminated against by a local restaurant, namely Spivey's on Winchester Blvd.

A feeling of resentment against the students, young and old, has been felt for sometime, however, this feeling was concretely expressed to us by the manager of said restaurant when on Friday we sat down to order our lunch.

We were specifically asked if we were students and upon our positive reply we were told not to read in the restaurant even though we planned to order and pay for our lunch! We were further told by the manager that students are not allowed to read in Spivey's. This, of course, is nothing less than discrimination!

Mrs. Dwyer and myself are grown, mature, married women as well as college students. We are also taxpayers in the community. We feel that it is within our constitutional rights, as long as we are not disturbing the peace, being a nuisance, or holding restaurant space unnecessarily, to read or study while we are waiting to be served or while we are eating.

It is the business of the restaurant to serve the public and as long as we are not disturbing anyone and we pay for our meal, it is no one's business what we do while we eat it!

To our knowledge, as long as West Valley College has been in existence, there has never been an instance where a West Valley College student has given any concern to local business people. On the whole the college students are above reproach as far as conduct is concerned.

For the most part they confine their activities to the college campus. The traffic is well controlled by the campus police, the local police, and the students themselves. We see no reason to resent or discriminate against these students.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Patricia Donaire

DENTAL SUPPORT
Dear Editor:

The Santa Clara County Dental Society is only one of a great number of professional and scientific organizations behind the effort to bring about the fluoridation of the public water supplies and so reduce dental decay an average of 60 per cent among those drinking this water during the period their permanent teeth are forming.

Water fluoridation is not a substitute for any other dental health measure.

It is only one of the means by which dental decay is reduced, although over 20 years of controlled water fluoridation and many years of naturally fluoridated water consumption have proven this the greatest of all of these measures.

The dental profession and the public health departments have advocated and still urge that in addition to water fluoridation persons eat a proper balanced diet (less sugars and refined carbohydrates), carry out good dental hygiene (brushing, etc.) and have periodic dental check-ups.

Sincerely,
Lee T. Tan, D.D.S

DENTIST SPEAKS
Dear Editor:

High lights of the recent National Dental Health Assembly in Washington D.C. present an eloquent argument for water fluoridation:

1. Fluoridation is the fourth great public health measure; the other three are pasteurization of milk, vaccination, and water purification.

2. Twenty-one years of experience have shown that dental caries in children can be reduced up to 65% by water fluoridation.

3. There is evidence that the crystalline structure of bones in adults is improved where fluoridated waters are drunk; and certainly that the drinking of fluoridated water by children helps prevent dental caries in their adult life.

4. More than 3000 communities now use fluoridated water. Some 7,000,000 persons drink naturally fluoridated water and 60,000,000 drink water to which fluorides are added in controlled amounts.

5. The matter of water supply fluoridation has been tested in courts 30 times, and the proponents have won every case.

6. The U.S. Supreme Court has refused seven times to review cases brought by anti-fluoridationists. Thus there is ample legal precedent to indicate that the constitutional rights of individuals are not violated by the adoption of fluoridation.

7. Fifty-one percent of toothpaste used in this country is fluoridated, thus belying the fact that people consider fluorides to be a poison.

Congressman John E. Fogarty of Rhode Island, one of the legislators present, expressed regret that acceptance of fluoridation is moving so slowly. He criticized the "rejection of solid scientific findings by the use of propaganda, distortion, and rumor".

He said he was convinced that the vast majority of the people would wholeheartedly accept fluoridation except for "the noise and big scare" raised by opponents.

Sincerely,
John Hughes, D.D.S.

FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

The various witnesses appearing at the Public Utilities Commission Fluoridation hearings have presented quite a contrast. The scientists presented by the proponents during the first few days, spoke at length and in depth from their own knowledge and from their own personal research.

The witnesses presented by the anti-fluoridationists during the last few days of the hearing in no case had done personal laboratory research on the effects of controlled water fluoridation to the individual. Collectively, they spent literally hours reading letters, newspaper stories, and articles by others.

Dr. F. B. Exner, who, by the evaluation of the anti-fluoridationists, is probably their most authoritative spokesman, by his own admission has done no laboratory research in this field. He questions the competency of all pro-fluoridation advocates and bases his own adequacy on having read and studied a great mass of articles written by others.

Helen McDonald, another anti-fluoridation witness told of no personal research but again read at length, headlines and material prepared by others.

Dr. Mick, the New Jersey dentist, testified on the stand that he had done no research on persons drinking water from an approved controlled fluoridated water system. He too referred at length to various pieces of literature most of which the PUC Commissioner characterized as the type of hearsay evidence which could not be presented in a formal judicial proceeding.

Dr. Mick's only research by his own testimony had to do with rats given a fluoridated drinking water. In response to cross-examination, Dr. Mick admitted that he had not checked the rats' fluoride intake before the experiment, the individual rat intake of fluoridated water, or the fluoride content of other foodstuffs fed to them.

Professor Bergstahler, one of the anti-fluoridationist witnesses, presented a picture little different from that of the other anti-fluoridationists. He presented his review and analysis of other people's work.

He admitted to no research of his own in the field. Much of his review and analysis was of articles by others who in turn had done the same that he was doing, reviewed and analyzed the work of others.

These are the anti-fluoridationists and their scientific leaders. Don't rely on these unknown names from afar to influence you. Ask your local physician, dentist, your county health officer for the facts.

Sincerely,
Donald J. King

ANTI-FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

The constitutional issue of opposition to any form of fluoridation is of tremendous importance to all American people and I wish to state to you my stand on the matter.

The Constitution of the United States was designed to guarantee fundamental freedoms of the individual. The exercise of individual rights has been the basic reason for our nation's enterprise, success and greatness. These rights include the right of the individual to choose food and drink acceptable to him.

To force a person to be a vegetarian would be to violate that person's constitutional right. To force him to use medicine, vitamin pills or other nutriments likewise violates his constitutional freedom of choice.

Adding fluoride to the community water supply is mass medication. It therefore threatens the liberty of every American man, woman and child as an opening wedge for further violation of individual freedoms.

There is no necessity for such mass medication. Parents desiring fluorides for their children can use a controlled dosage through tablets added to their drinking water at small cost to themselves.

This voluntary method entails no cost to taxpayers and public water users and does not violate our priceless American heritage of individual right of

I may live in Saratoga but this issue in the City of Campbell and vote is of vital importance to our city too and also Los Gatos for it involves the same water system (San Jose) and EVERY citizen and their individual rights are of utmost importance in this matter.

Please print this letter.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Jean D. Wilkinson

ANTI-FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

For what it is worth, my opinion of the ballot argument for fluoridation in the April 12 Campbell election is that it contains such vague and illogical statements that I am surprised Dr. Elwyn Turner was willing to sign his name to it.

The claim that there has never been a single case of illness or ill-effect from fluoridated water in neighboring fluoridated cities is sheer nonsense! How can the Public Health Department possibly know what fluoridated water is doing to the health of each person in these areas, since they have not examined each one individually?

This is the most damning argument against mass medication--no doctor prescribes the dosage, no doctor is responsible for the safety of the patient, and the treatment can't be stopped if it makes the patient sick.

Scientific studies show that the factor of allergy alone would cause a considerable number of people to suffer "ill-effects" from drinking fluoridated water, to say nothing of the 10-20% of all children the USPHS expects may develop mottled teeth.

After 17 years of fluoridation in Grand Rapids, Dr. A. L. Russell (USPHS) found that 19.3% of white, and 40.2% of Negro teenagers had mottled teeth.

I object to a government bureau OR my neighbor subjecting my child to the risk of such permanent disfigurement. Let those who choose to gamble with their children's health use fluoride pills, and let the rest of us alone!

Incidentally, for the benefit of the local JayCee who rose so gallantly to the defense of the high death rate in fluoridated San Francisco, I understand the promoters also use this tired cliche (people being older) to explain away the higher death rates in other fluoridated cities. (Grand Rapids, Michigan and Newburgh, N. Y., for example.)

Sincerely,
L. Dreischmeyer

ANTI-FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

So the pot has started calling the kettle back! That usually happens when the issue is a controversial one. There were FOUR statements in the letter appearing in the San Jose Tribune (3-9-66) which a pharmacist, in a letter to the Campbell Press (3-16-66), labeled as being a perfect example of "half-truth" tactics used by the anti-fluoridationists.

Since only one statement was criticized, he must have realized the other three were WHOLE TRUTH facts, which indeed they are.

The statement being held up as HALF-TRUTH, states that fluoridated San Francisco has a higher death rate and a lower birth rate than does either Contra Costa or Marin Counties, both unfluoridated.

The writer who challenged the truth of that statement, not only does nothing to disprove it, but actually substantiates it by quoting figures showing that such has been the case since 1950. What we need to know if the percentage of deaths per M. population for EVERY YEAR from 1950 to 1965.

If these statistics could be grouped according to ages, a more accurate picture could be had. Birth rates might also be helpful though obviously there would be no births in the group of youngsters or in the oldest group.

It is a fact that San Francisco's death rate has risen since the addition of sodium fluoride to the water supply. Whether that is due to fluoride poisoning as implied by the first letter, or the old age of 37.3 years as stated in the second letter, does not change the fact.

But without certified data as proof, it seems very foolish to flatly state old age as the cause of an increased death rate and ignore fluoride poisoning as a possible factor. Especially so, when other cities with fluoridated water have also had an increased death rate.

Those parents who want their children to have the protection(?) of fluorides need not be deprived of this protection. They can get it, with a prescription of course, from the pharmacist.

The last sentence is "Ask your physician or dentist." Ask him WHAT? Hitler is credited with once saying if you tell a lie big enough, loud enough and long enough you can make everyone believe it.

It seems to me Hitler's loud enough and long enough method has been used to the hilt. So may I suggest you ask YOURSELF a few questions that might go somewhat like this:

"What right morally, legally, or professionally does anyone have to force me to ingest what he thinks is good for HIM? or more incongruous his children? My own personal physician can't force me to follow his advice yet here is a health issue being decided by popular vote that leaves no choice.

Is this what I want? Is this democratic? Will this be the only health dogma to be forced on me, or is it only the beginning?"

These are just a few that come to mind, but if you start thinking I'm sure many more will come to your mind. It's all right to ask--and listen--BUT to both sides, if you can get information on the opposition.

But you MUST think and THINK LONG AND HARD!! For if you don't some person(s) or organization(s) will be happy to take over the job for you.

Respectfully,
Ella G. Sprow

ANTI-FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

Advisory Question No. 1 on fluoridation in the April 12 Campbell election asks your permission to dump into your drinking water an unspecified fluoride compound in unspecified amounts.

Considering the wide variation in toxicity of the fluoride compounds, and the non-existent margin of safety, voters should object to being asked to vote blindfolded. Why doesn't the Health Department reveal exactly WHICH fluoride compound would be used, and HOW MUCH?

Those who attended the PUC hearings in San Jose and heard some of the nation's outstanding authorities testifying AGAINST fluoridation, learned that the addition of ANY amount of ANY fluoride compound to the water supply HAS NEVER BEEN PROVEN SAFE.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. G. Sutton
